

Web: Can I edit my own web site?

Yes, it is possible to edit or maintain your own web site. This is possible in a couple of ways. First, you may elect to use our Hosting only option, but then you may not need any help from us at all! The more popular option is to have KA Data Group design a web site with the ability for you to modify your own content using our built in editor. Ask us for more information.
